

Shazmah Hakim

Chief Legal Officer, Oak View Group

As Chief Legal Officer at Oak View Group, Shazmah Hakim serves as general counsel and leads the company’s global legal function. She acts as a strategic advisor to the executive leadership team, providing guidance across corporate commercial transactions, governance and compliance, litigation and risk management, and global regulatory matters. Hakim oversees all legal teams supporting mergers and acquisitions, commercial and revenue agreements, intellectual property and brand protection, labor and employment, as well as ethics, ESG, and corporate social responsibility—ensuring alignment with OVG’s continued growth and innovation across its global portfolio.

Hakim brings more than 25 years of experience advising on complex domestic and international legal matters spanning transactional, commercial, real estate, operational, governance, compliance, and data privacy. She has held senior leadership roles at Remington Lodging & Hospitality, More Development, Inc., Marriott International, and Kingdom Hotel Investments, where she provided strategic counsel to CEOs and executive teams while overseeing global legal operations. Her experience spans markets across the U.S., Caribbean, Latin America, Europe, the UK, Asia Pacific, the Middle East, Africa, and Australia. Hakim holds a B.A. in International Relations from Scripps College, an M.A. in International Business and Politics from New York University, and a J.D. from George Washington University.

Updated April 2026